SB Tactical™ Announces Official OEM Partnership with CAA

Saint Petersburg, Fla. (July 13, 2016) - SB Tactical™, inventors and manufacturers of the Pistol Stabilizing Brace™, is pleased to announce its official OEM partnership with CAA, the exclusive distributor of world-class, operator-tested firearms accessories and the Hartman MH1 Reflex Sights. CAA is now shipping the Non-NFA RONI featuring an officially licensed SB Tactical Pistol Stabilizing Brace. The Pistol Stabilizing Brace enhances one-hand firing of the RONI-STAB and optimizes control by providing a third point of contact. The RONI-STAB is the first Non-NFA RONI available, meaning less paperwork, no wait times, and no additional costs.

The RONI-STAB is designed to fit multiple handgun models – the GLOCK 17/19 is available now – and there are models available for Beretta, HK, SIG SAUER, Springfield XD and many other brands.

The expansion of the SB Tactical product portfolio and OEM relationships illustrates SB Tactical's commitment to driving innovation and offering customers the most useful accessories for the PDW pistol category.
